Tried and True...

Classroom Management for Occasional Teachers - with Connie Zoet

In-your-face defiance, refusal to work, rudeness, back talk, and "Make me!" are just a few of the attitudes and behaviours faced daily by Occasional Teachers who take over when the regular teacher is absent. Occasional teaching is challenging and without effective strategies for managing what students regularly dish up, our days can be long and stressful. In this workshop, Occasional Teachers will identify behaviours, explore why students behave the way they do, and learn effective, positive strategies to prevent and/or deal with negative behaviours.
